Sex War Stirs Battle In Fold Of Episcopal Church

(By Universal Service)
A turmoil of attack and counter-attack on the blazing topics of sex, marriage and divorce yesterday brought to a tempestuous close the fifty-third annual national congress of the Episcopal church.

The battle over whether the church officially should recognize by serious and sympathetic consideration, the avowedly changing standards involving the marriage question and the relationship of the sexes, stretched across the continent as the congress adjourned and involved leading figures in laity and pulpit.

Leading one faction was the boyish, earnest figure of Rev. Henry Lewis, rector of St. Andrews Church in Ann Arbor, Mich., home of the University of Michigan. At the opening of the congress, on Tuesday night Lewis astounded the delegates by uttering a vigorous appeal to the church to give serious study to so-called "companionate marriages," unmarried unions and other modern manifestations of sex, particularly among young people.

In New York one of the big guns of the Episcopal Church, Bishop William T. Manning, yesterday launched the offensive against Lewis and his views. A strict conservative, Bishop Manning interpreted Lewis' remarks as sanctioning unmarried unions.

"Any man who defends or approves unmarried unions is out of place in the ministry of the Episcopal Church or any other church," Bishop Manning declared in a public statement. "Straight" (Continued on Page 3)

"Mystery Passenger" To Accompany Byrd In Long Dash

$5,000 Fine, Two Years In Prison Upheld In Verdict

No Prizes Await Flyers At End Of Pacific Ocean Journey

(By Universal Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—The federal court here today refused a rehearing in the case of Abner Doble, sentenced to serve two years in a state penitentiary and to pay a fine of $5,000 for violation of the state corporation law, regarding the state of stock.

The court recently upheld the conviction of Doble and the punishment. Doble was accused and convicted of having oversold stock in the Doble Steam Motor car company.

That Byrd will take a passenger was strongly hinted at Roosevelt field today, though the airman would not discuss it.

FOUR MEN ON SHIP
That will make four men on the plane, America, when it starts. Other members of the Byrd crew are Bert Acosta and George Novills.

It was just a month ago that Lindbergh made the flight alone. Then Chamberlin and Levine crossed. Now four are ready to go on Byrd's plane. The trans-Atlantic air business is growing fast.

Byrd said today that he is getting from fifty to one hundred letters a day from persons begging him to take them. Most of the letters come from girls. Some are prominent socially. Others are farm girls in the mid-west, all plead:

"Please, please, please let me be the first girl to cross the Atlantic." (Continued on Page 8)

Hope Expressed For French Aces

(By Universal Service)
QUEBEC, June 17.—When the Indians of the woods of north Quebec came down to their missions at Point Bleu on Lake St. John at the end of this month or the beginning of July many believe Nungesser and Galt will be with them. This hope is based on the stories current that the French aviators are marooned in the woods of Quebec. Despite the fact that the flare theory has been abandoned much importance is attached to the report of George Rousseau, a chopper, who states he heard a plane in the region of St. Margaret River on May 9.

Rousseau declares it went in a northerly direction and in this event it is surmised that the White Bird came to ground beyond the Peribonka river where there is one of the widest districts in the province. If this should be true optimists believe that Nungesser and Galt either went into an Indian camp or have been picked up by reason of the annual trip. There is much hope placed in this.

KENTS ENTERTAIN

SUIT IS FILED TO Quiet Title Here
William J. Schallert of San Francisco, has filed suit against Mrs. Verlie P. Campbell, former Richmond resident, to quiet title to a house and two lots in North Richmond, as executrix of the estate of the late John Henry Campbell.

After Campbell died in 1911 the property was assigned to his widow, Attorney Clare D. Horner, representing the plaintiff reported. Mrs. Campbell subsequently sold the property to Schallert. An error discovered in the papers is the reason for the suit.

"Two men are doing time now for that kind of stuff," said Douglas. "I don't think anyone will try it again."

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, June 17.—Plans for a San Francisco-Hawaii flight to begin sometime in July were announced by the war department today.

Leutenants Lester J. Maitland and Albert P. Hagenbeyer, two of the army's most famous flyers are now piloting the super plane in which they will attempt the homeward journey, where further tests are to be made.

Drastic Tests Made
The plane, known as the C-2, has already met most of the drastic requirements imposed upon it by the army. It was announced by Assistant Secretary of war for air F. Truher Davidson. He feels confident that it will span the 2,560 miles of the Pacific with ease and with sufficient gas for 1,000 miles more, he said. At Dayton, where the plane was constructed, it has lifted more than the required load and performed perfectly.

To Start In July
However, the instruments to enable the pilots to lay a true course to the little islands must be subjected to severe tests. This will be done in a series of flights from San Francisco and San Diego. Also the new engines must be shaken down, thoroughly limbered and then tightened up. This will require from three weeks to a month, it is announced, so it is believed that the flight will start the latter part of July.

No Prizes Wanted
The navy, it is understood, has been contemplating such a flight since the failure of Rodgers expedition to reach the islands, but this will be deferred until after (Continued on Page 8)

Building Advantage Of Short Lengths Of Lumber Is Told

Short pieces of lumber, four, five and six feet long, can be used only to induce the builders to use these short lengths, Holtman spoke at the annual banquet of the Richmond Builders Exchange last Tuesday night. Hurley said that when a tree is defective, there are many pieces less than eight feet long left over. These ends are plentiful and cheap. Hurley asserted, and could well be used for bridging, or as fire stops between studs.

At present lumber for under eight feet long is hard to buy. And when this eight foot stock is cut in short pieces, there is waste of good material. It remains, Hurley concluded to persuade contractors and lumber salesmen to take the short lumber into account.

Belfast Unemployed Show Falling Off

(By Universal Service)
DUBLIN, June 17, (Belfast) — On the up-grade.
Her unemployed has decreased from 100,000 in 1921 to 29,968 for the year ending May, 1927.

The fall in unemployment has continued every week of this year being over 9 per cent in the shipbuilding industry, 6.6 per cent in the linen industry and in the building trade 9.7 per cent.

J. M. Andrews, minister for Labor is jubilant over the shipbuilding position, and says the outlook for the North is fine. But he is pessimistic over the linen trade, and is actually advocating protection against the dumping of foreign linen.

This has delighted the Free State tariff people, who say Ulster is coming round to their views. The ever famous "Joe" Devlin, nationalist leader up North reprimands Northern women of wealth for wearing foreign manufactured clothing while Northern mills are idle.

Dr. Guthrie charged Bishop Manning with "usurpation of authority" in his criticism of Lewis, and declared that the bishop's views on marriage, instead of being "high and stringent," were "low and lax."

It was when news dispatches from New York early yesterday brought word of Bishop Manning's declaration to the congress delegates' meeting here at the Fairmont Hotel that the battle line actually was drawn. Last night it was freely admitted by the departing clergy and laymen, on their way to their homes in a score of states, that the dispute over sex relationships has assumed such serious proportions that it undoubtedly will be threshed out "on the floor" at the next meeting of the Episcopal general convention.

Leading the counter-attack against Bishop Manning is Rev. William N. Guthrie, famous "everything dancing" rector of St. Marks on the bouwerie, New York, and an out-spoken adversary of the head of the New York diocese. In a prepared statement, Dr. Guthrie charged Bishop Manning with "usurpation of authority" in his criticism of Lewis, and declared that the bishop's views on marriage, instead of being "high and stringent," were "low and lax."

"Let us have an open mind, get all the facts, all of them, honestly, and pray to God for His spirit. Then let institutions and opinions be plastic to the creative pressure of God's fashioning hand. Jesus appealed to the deep souls of the race for a developing ideal of marriage. But law He never ventured to suggest, much less promulgate. He, the defier of all law and the setter forth of an impossible, ever-mounting goal of the head of the New York diocese. In a prepared statement, Dr. Guthrie charged Bishop Manning with "usurpation of authority" in his criticism of Lewis, and declared that the bishop's views on marriage, instead of being "high and stringent," were "low and lax."

Scattered His Father's Ashes Over Old Home From Plane

"MOTHER" LINDBERGH'S OWN STORY

As Told By His Mother to ROBERT CAMPBELL.
(Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening GRAPHIC. All rights reserved. Reproduction in part or in full forbidden.)

The saddest mission in all Capt. Lindbergh's eventful life?

Scattering the ashes of his beloved father over the Lindbergh homestead as his father had requested.

Captain Lindbergh in this chapter is "seen at play" with his air mail mates in St. Louis.

Crickets that turned into SCORPIONS.

And the drink of gasoline.

ARTICLE 9.

All through the Lindbergh generations runs the dominant streak of grit.

Once when Charles Lindbergh's father, the late Congressman Lindbergh, was very ill he was told that an abdominal operation would be necessary to save his life.

"Go ahead," said the congressman, and, scornful of anesthetics, he talked of the Federal Reserve System to a friend seated at his bedside while the surgeons above him pried their scalp. Never a whimper nor twitch.

Deep Love For Dad.

Between Lindbergh and his father there was the deepest bond of love and affection. In 1924 Congressman Lindbergh died. For some time before that sad event the boy had begun to make a name for himself as a flyer.

A year before his death, Congressman Lindbergh requested that when he passed on his son, his inseparable companion of so many of his living hours, should be the one to dispose of his ashes.

The remains of Congressman Lindbergh were cremated. And then the son took the urn containing his father's ashes, climbed into his plane, and sailing high over the family home at Little Falls, scattered the ashes over the Lindbergh homestead.

His Saddest Duty.

It was the saddest duty in all the eventful life of the flyer, but as he explained:

"It was father's wish."

He never faltered in this mission, when his very soul was torn with poignant grief and sorrow.

But for once he did not smile. Capt. Lindbergh and his father were Lutherans. While not members of the Bethel Lutheran church of Little Falls, Minn., they attended the church frequently.

L. E. Sjolinder, the minister of the church, spoke the last words at the funeral services before Lindbergh took the air with his father's ashes.

PLANE GOING TO PARIS.

And that very plane that Lindbergh used—a battered, banged-up craft—is going to follow Capt. Lindbergh's route to Paris.

It was resurrected from a pile of debris in the Lindbergh barn, and will go to Paris as part of the Minnesota float in the American Legion parade during the reunion there later in the summer.

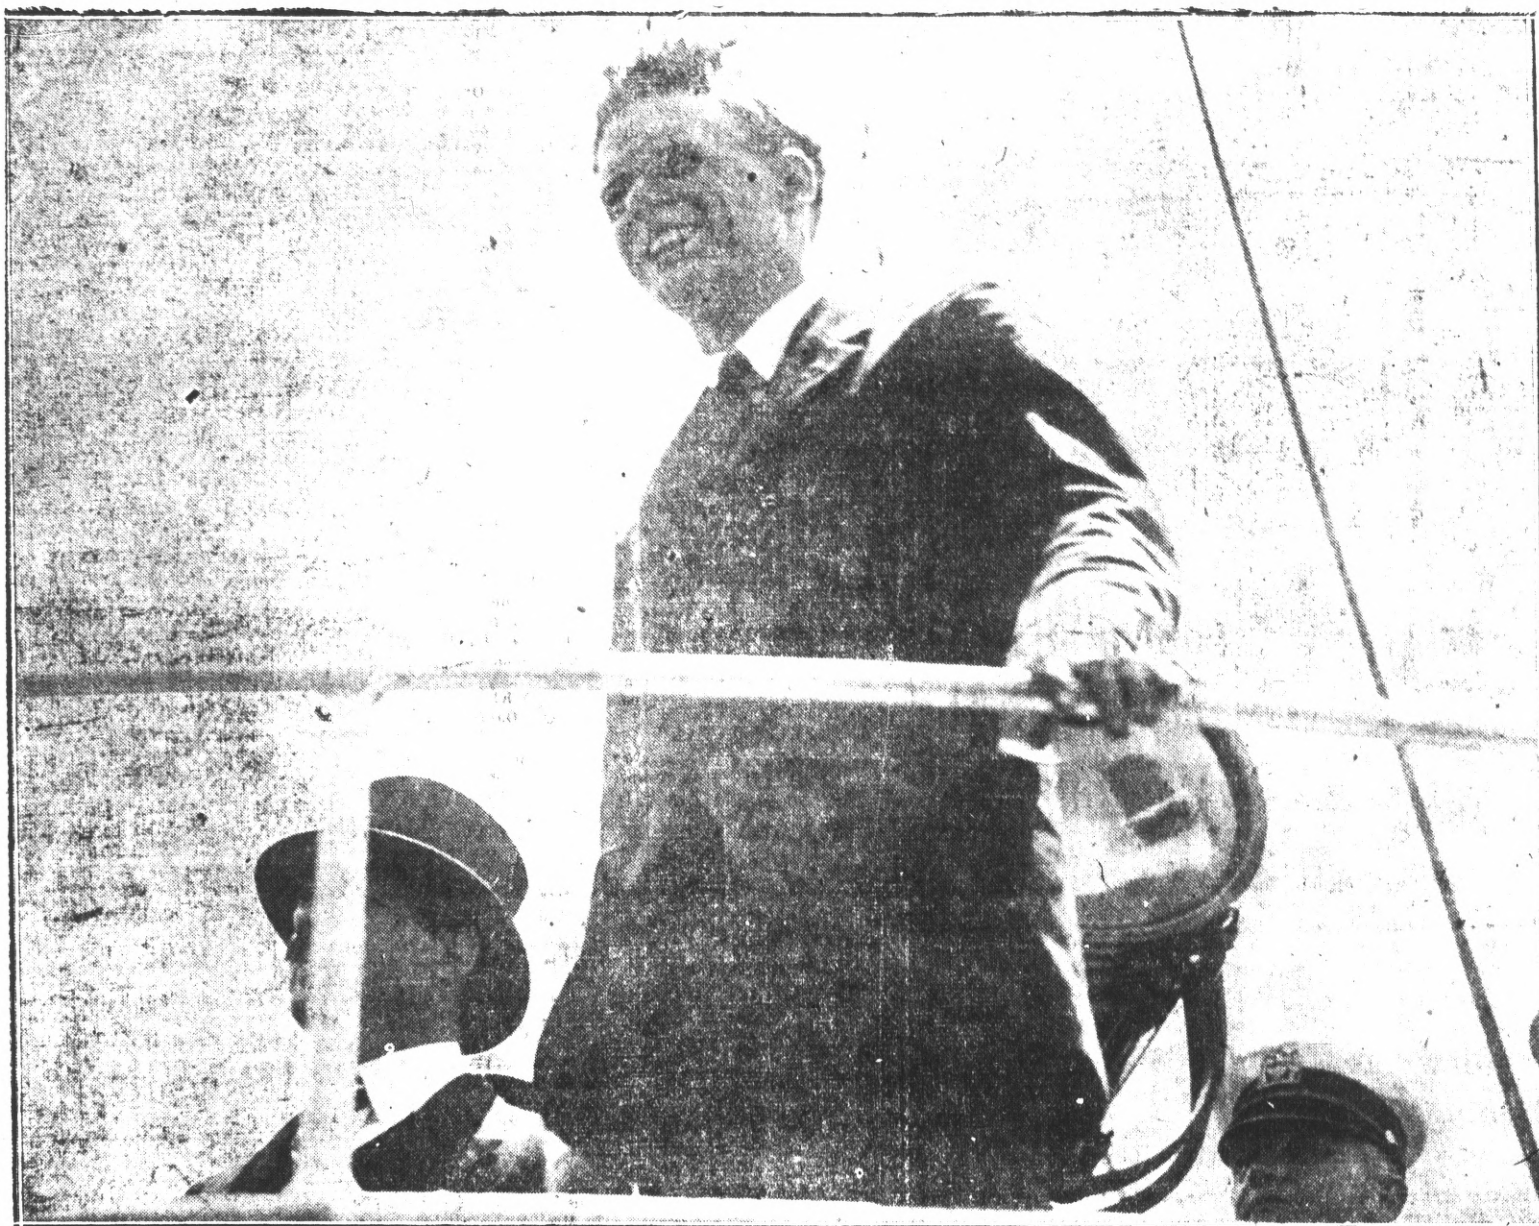

While the world may have doubted and feared for the success of Capt. Lindbergh in his aerial flight, it is now revealed that by himself was never harassed by fear.

Asked Return Ticket.

Just before he hopped off in the Spirit of St. Louis from the Lambert St. Louis field for New York, he was asked by Harry S. Knight, a friend for years and one of his most enthusiastic backers, and eventually said:

"There's just one thing more I

'The Lindy Smile'—Let's All Cultivate It—It Wins

THE SMILE THAT WON. Lindbergh greeted New York city with an expansive smile that won him a host of friends the world over. He beamed as he saw his mother on pier A, at the Battery, when the welcoming steamer, Macom, with officials on board, which he had boarded in the bay after flying from Washington, approached. Thousands also waited him at the dock and burst into loud cheers as they sighted him as planes soared overhead.

need. Please buy me a return ticket from Paris to New York so that as soon as 'we' arrive I can have the plane crated so we can sail back."

"And so confident was I in Lindbergh," says Knight, "that I bought it and he carried it with him to Paris."

Practical Joker.

"We don't think that Capt. Lindbergh ever sang a who's son in his life," say his air mail companions on the St. Louis-Cleveland and St. Louis-Chicago "runs."

"And none of us ever saw him dance even a single step, but—"

And then they launched into his penchant for practical jokes.

There's the classic story that Bud Gurney, formerly his room mate, relates with glee. Gurney had eaten a lot of chocolate-covered candy, and had developed a thirst.

He asked Lindbergh to get him a drink of water. Lindbergh seemingly complied. He returned and gravely tendered Bud a filled glass.

Gurney actually swallowed several gulps before he discovered he was drinking gasoline.

Gurney, after that, made no further requests to Lindbergh to fetch him water. He did his own fetching.

Another bit of jocularly was to put crickets into the beds of the other air mail pilots and when they discovered them, to look them over gravely—the crickets, not the pilots—and then solemnly declare that they were scorpions and sure death to any man they had touched.

There was also much of the primitive Indian about Capt. Lindbergh. He has the "rubber constitution" of the redman. He dislikes super-soft mattresses and often preferred to sleep on the hard floor of the pilots' barracks with his clothes placed methodically on the bed above him.

Appears Tireless.

"He is impervious to ordinary physical fatigue," says Bud Gurney, "and apparently could go a full week without closing his eyes and with his wonderful vitality unimpaired."

But he's a wonderful fellow for keeping regular hours. When not on air duty he was always early in bed. No late hours for the captain.

"He sure takes care of that body of his. He also shuns coffee. Water is his tipple. And cigarettes he has no use for. He never smokes tobacco in any form, smoking or chewing. He keeps himself in perfect physical condition, and his whole life is wrapped up in just one thing—flying."

Expect Greater Things.

"And his old friends here—the boys who 'knew him in the air'—just know that tremendously great and wonderful as his Atlantic hop was, that it is only the beginning of the bigger things that this great kid will yet do.

"He's a real wonder! And when he gets back I'd cheerfully drink a whole gallon of gasoline if it would bring that great grin that came over his face the time I discovered I was trying to drink some 'fuel'."

Stories of the "harnstorming days" when he daily risked his life and laughed in the teeth of peril. And of his "asthma" motorcycle, whose "cough" presaged its coming. Thrills and laughs.

British Girls' Club Wants Men To Join

(By Universal Service)

LONDON, June 17. Fifty pretty girls who live together in a solemn Victorian mansion in Lancaster gate, have confessed to the most daring of all feminine yearnings—the longing of the community of men.

They make their admission as one, publicly and unaltered, in a challenging announcement that they are about to create a man's club close to their present maidless sanctuary.

The long residents are members of a residential club, "33, Avenue," which has been operating for some years as a successful and exceptionally well-appointed home for young women.

Recently the members decided to expand, and acquired a similar many-storied residence of the solid Victorian type. It was planned to increase the membership.

Yesterday the whole program was exposed. The House Committee led off with the shy suggestion to approach the opposite sex; the club endorsed the idea swiftly and unanimously.

LINDY REACHES ST. LOUIS IN NON-STOP HOP

(By Universal Service)

ST. LOUIS, June 17.—"Slim" is here.

Colonel Charles Augustus Lindbergh arrived at Lambert field, from where he started his epic flight, at 3:26 o'clock today.

It was just one short month ago that he left this field an obscure air mail pilot, only to return today as America's favorite flying hero. He had flown without stop from New York. It was the last lap of the flight that crossed the Atlantic and made New York and Paris neighbors.

His appearance over the business district of the city was the signal for this town to start the greatest bonouncing celebration in history.

From the time he was first sighted over Scott field, at Beltsville, Md., flying in close formation with his escort of army planes, until he disappeared over the western side of the city, shoutful cheers, yells and what have you poured up through the air, until even he must have heard them, despite the roar of his motor.

This shimmering silver monoplane that carried the name of St. Louis to the great capitals of Europe, was first sighted at a few minutes before three. A shout went up from one of the high buildings. It was taken up by thousands of throats throughout the business district.

Paper flew from windows, literally entering the street. Ticker tape unrolled in columns from windows. It was a far greater celebration than the Cardinals received when they brought the first world's championship to St. Louis in some forty years.

Orders had been issued to throw anything out of windows, but this order apparently was flung to the winds.

ZUNI INDIANS GAIN IN LONG HIGHWAY RACE

COLLIDGE PARK, Cal., June 17.—The keen check of Indians running in the Redwood highway race, from San Francisco to Grants' Pass, Ore., showed the Bull well in the lead 19 1/2 miles from the San Francisco starting point.

He was trailed some 15 miles to the rear by Melika and Chocher Zuni entrants, who were doggedly plugging ahead with every intention of overtaking their Karook opponent during the night.

The positions of the other runners were given as follows, all figures from the San Francisco starting point: Flying Cloud 169 miles; Sweek Eagle, 163; Fighting Stag, 154; Rushing Water, 155; Big White Deer, 146.

Jamon, the third Zuni entrant was resting at Cloverdale, giving his blistered feet a chance to heal. He expected to start out again at 7 p. m. for a hard drive after the Mad Bull.

Though Jamon was nearly 20 miles behind Mad Bull at noon, the race observers did not consider his chances to overtake the Karook adversary unlikely, because "he is a Zuni". Those who have watched the three New Mexico Indians in the race learned respect for the Southern Indians because they apparently figured it best to trail their opponents at the start of the race, let the Karooks "but themselves out," and then steadily overtake them.

Dougall Provides Fishing Bulletin

A weekly bulletin providing information for local fishermen has been inaugurated at the R. B. Dougall Hardware and Sporting Goods store. The bulletin gives valuable data on the condition of the various streams in the state and where the biggest catches are made. It also tells where the largest ocean and lake catches are being landed.

The latest bulletin includes the following reports:
Mount Lassen National Park—The lakes in and around this park are now accessible to fishermen as the trails and roads are about free from snow.

Monterey Bay—Trotting in the deep water of Monterey Bay for salmon is real sport as the angler is bound to hook some big ones. Bonts may be had at Monterey, Capitola or Santa Cruz. The boat keeps on where to go for the big game fish. Salmon are now being taken up to 50 pounds.

Other fishing information can be found on the bulletin at Dougall's store.

Ben Maliks. He hits and throws left handed.

ARMOUR BEATS HARRY COOPER IN OPEN GOLF

OAKMONT, Pa., June 17.—Tommy Armour, of the Congressional country club of Washington, D. C., sometime operator of a tank in the stretches of no man's land, but for the present, operator of a golfing layout, like no one else who has toured the trap-infested terrain of Oakmont, these past few days, is the 1927 National Open Champion.

By a margin of three strokes, Armour today earned him a $5,000 cash in hand, and the plaudits of a multitude that was out to see the playoff round between the Scot and young Harry Cooper, of Los Angeles, who had led him 27-201 when the open championship had reached its regular 72 hole length.

A long putt here and there, a deadly approach every now and then, a facility for picking up at least a stroke on each of the four short holes of the difficult course, earned Armour his victory.

From the first hole to the ninth, Armour was either a stroke lower than Cooper, or even with him. And then Cooper, who had stumbled along very courageously, picked up a shot at the tenth, and another at the eleventh, and going at the thirteenth he was still leading by that margin.

But Armour had two more of his specially constructed short holes left to play. At the thirteenth he ironed his way into a par three, and got back a stroke when Cooper was bunkered from the tee. At the fifteenth, when both were trapped, and both got out forty or fifty feet from the pin, the methodical Armour rammed his long putt down and the score was even once more, though Cooper, undismayed, all but holed his putt of about equal length across the green.

That left the 164 yard fifteenth, straight into the wind, to become the determining factor in the championship.

Cooper, for some reason, entirely unable to get any accuracy at these short holes, was bunkered again, and took two smacks to get out on to the green. Armour, not yet behind the pin, and, one stroke of the hill, a spot, according to Robert T. Jones, Jr., the retiring champion, which was perfect, and it probably was. At least Tommy got down in the regulation three, and when Cooper finally slapped the ball into the cup, he had lost two strokes, and the ball game was over.

Both entertained with marvelous pitches to the pin at the top of the hill seventeenth, and a hat could have covered cup, and both golf balls, when the production was over.

Coming to the final green, Cooper was wild to the right with his tee shot. Armour keeping down the middle, Harry's approach found a trap, and his recovery wasn't so hot. Tommy, with the title in his grasp, played deliberately and got his par. Cooper going one stroke over, to score a 40 for the round and a 79 for the entire trip.

The cards:
Cooper out—5-4-4-6-4-4-4-4-39
Armour, out—4-4-5-5-5-3-5-3-39
Cooper, in, 4-4-5-4-5-5-5-3-40-79
Armour, in, 5-5-5-5-4-3-4-3-76

Cooper's temporary lead, gained at the tenth and eleventh, was occasioned by the only semblance of unsteadiness, evidenced by the eventual champion, on the entire way around.

Harry was his usual lively self, and if he was worrying about the outcome of the performance, his demeanor did not show it.

Sannies, Elks Benefit Game Now On Tap

A ball game for the benefit of the family of John McNulty, killed in an automobile crash will be held at the First street park this afternoon at 2:45 o'clock. The Sannies and the Elks of Richmond will provide the competition. Phil Jones' Sannies are the leaders in the Three-C league and expect to give the Elks plenty of trouble. But the Elks' manager, Johnny Garvin, has searched the Standard Oil league and has a bunch of players capable of giving the Sannies some competition.

Mechanics Bank Beats American Trust Ball Nine

At the conclusion of the game the losers entertained the winners at a banquet at Hotel California. A short program given included piano solos by "Cupid" Anderson, and a lecture by Parsons Fleischer. An enjoyable time was had by all.

The teams lined up as follows:
Mechanics Bank—Marcos, p; McLaughlin, c; Anderson, ss; Pat MacDonald, lf; Fleischer, 1b; Engelmann, 2b; Davis, cf; Abby, rf; MacDonald 3b; Brown, rf.

AMERICANS WIN INTERNATIONAL TENNIS SERIES

(The Universal Service)
MANCHESTER, England, June 17.—William T. Tilden and Francis T. Hunter, clinched victory for the United States in the international tennis series with Great Britain when they easily took the doubles today. Both Tilden and Hunter won their singles matches yesterday, and today's point gives America the necessary three out of five.

Tilden and Hunter took a straight set verdict from G. Crole-Rees and C. G. Eames, 6-4, 6-3, 7-5.

The first four games in the opening set went to the servers. Then the Americans crashed through Eames' delivery for the crucial game. Tilden gave the first set to America when he used his famous cannon ball to take a love game. This spurt sounded the death knell for British hopes. Tilden was unstoppable in the second set. His fierce service and generally powerful game, coupled with Hunter's steady reliability, quickly took the Americans to victory 6-3. The three games won by the Britons came on errors made by the rampaging Tilden rather than from any British excellence.

The Americans, with victory in sight, eased up in the final set, but even so the Britons were never in the Van and Tilden and Hunter ran out the match with little effort.

Bud Lewis' Ben Malik ball club went into tie with the Sannies for first place in the city league by easily trimming the lowly Santa Fe nine, 10 to 4, yesterday afternoon at the First street ball park.

The Santa Fe tossers started out as though they would hand the Maliks a sound trouncing, scoring four runs in the first inning. Gwynne Whetzel, Ben Malik pitcher, was driven from the mound under a barrage of base hits, and was replaced by Carl Kamb, who held the Santa Fe hitters scoreless for the remaining six innings.

The Ben Maliks got to Peacock, Santa Fe hurler, for seven runs in the third inning and added three more tallies in the fourth. Gus Figueroa and Hildebrandt were the hitting stars of the game with three hits apiece.

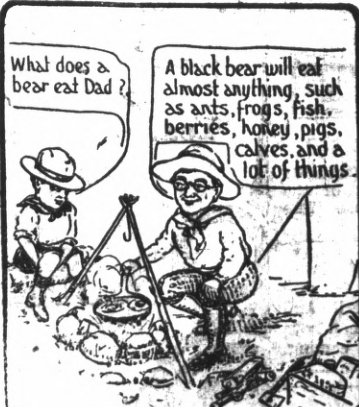

The winners lined up as follows: Kelly 2b; Wells, 2b; Hildebrandt, cf; McCoy ss; Kamb, 1b, p; Figueroa, lf; Jensen, c; Murphy, rf; Whetzel, p, 1b.

HEART TROUBLE

Marvelously Relieved
While visiting her daughter here in Oakland, Mrs. W. H. Morton of Stockton was in such great pain due to Heart Trouble that it affected her left hand. She could neither walk nor rest with the slightest comfort. All the physicians whom she consulted expressed the opinion that she had valvular trouble on the heart for some time. I became so ill that my doctors, who were many, gave me but a week or ten days to live.

I decided to try the Fong Wan Herb Co., and to their amazement of all who attended me, I was able to walk into their office after taking the herbs one week. I have now taken them four weeks and I not only have a good heart, but have been helped in other ailments.

I cannot speak too highly of the Fong Wan Herb Co. as I owe my life to them. I am very grateful to Fong Wan for his kindness.

Army Birdmen Impose Final Tests Toward Making Flight

the conclusion of what will probably be known as the Maitland flight. It was emphasized, however, that the proposed flight has nothing to do with the army's offer and that the two flyers will not be permitted to accept the reward should they be the first to reach Hawaii.

It was also officially announced that the flight is only coincidental with the Lindbergh and Chamberlain feats. Plans for extending the aerial defenses of the United States from the mainland to the Pacific islands have been in progress of preparation for some time, it was stated. The design for the monster plane was completed almost one year ago and the contract for its construction awarded six months ago.

Like Byrd Plane

The plane is a most intimate with that which Commander Byrd is about to attempt to cross the Atlantic. It is a monoplane with a wingspan of 71 feet, equipped with three Wright radial engines, each developing 225 horsepower.

It has been in various tests at Dayton with a gross load of 12,000 pounds and has shown splendid results not only for getting off the ground, but also for climbing to a good speed once in the air. The engine, which is a radial, will carry the plane without a hitch and is a feature that has been a great help in the construction of the plane. The engine is a radial, which is a feature that has been a great help in the construction of the plane. The engine is a radial, which is a feature that has been a great help in the construction of the plane.

Should the plane be forced down it will float for a considerable number of hours. However, it is to be equipped with a recently designed collapsible boat in which the two pilots may remain afloat in almost any kind of weather, it is stated.

CAL TO ATTEND RODEO IN JULY

(By Universal Service)

RAPID CITY, S. D., June 17.—In a happy holiday mood, President Coolidge has decided to enter with zest into the fun of the Black Hills country.

He will attend the annual triennial rodeo at Sells Park next week, and will also spend a few days in the Black Hills country.

The President has also announced that he will attend the "day of severest" held annually to celebrate the settlement of deadwood. Settlers there are already beginning to let their whiskers grow and the buildings are being made in replica of the cabins and other structures of early frontier life.

Whist Party Is Held
By Local Scientists

Merchandise orders were given for prizes at the whist party last night in Pythian castle house. The party was under the direction of Geo. T. Fisher, a place of H. W. Patterson who is on his honeymoon.

Two candidates were introduced into the Richmond branch of the International Association of Scientists last night when the meeting was held in Pythian Castle.

or rather the undetermined factor is the weather. The latest beacon, one is to be placed aboard ship about half way to Hawaii and the second on the islands. The instrument is a broadcast signal for at least 1,500 miles, approximately 1,000 miles further than any now used.

From the beacon the signals are sent out on two divergent lines. The plane is to fly between these when it is nearer one or the other of the "radio lines" or directly between them, which is the correct course. The greatest element of danger in the flight is to fly a true course as the island would be easily missed otherwise.

KING'S KNIGHT IS DISPLAYED IN RICHMOND

The "King's Knight," the Knight's motor automobile, used by King George of England for many years, was on display before Richmond residents yesterday, first making a tour through the streets of the city and then put on exhibition in the show room of the J. P. Strom Motor company, local Knight agency.

Purchased in 1910 and used for 14 years as the personal machine of the ruler of England, the car has transported such dignitaries as the Ex-Emperor Wilhelm of Germany, King Alfonso of Belgium and many other royal personages visiting England.

The "King's Knight," by Daimler, is equipped with a Knight sleeve-valve engine, with six cylinders of 4 7/8 inch bore and 5 1/8 inch stroke, developing 50 horsepower. The wheelbase is 117 inches and the car measures 10 feet over all. The tires are 36 by 6 inches, carrying a pressure of 55 pounds. Without gasoline or passengers, the car weighs 580 pounds but is capable of the tremendous weight it carries at a speed of more than 60 miles per hour and averages 6 1/2 miles to the gallon. The gasoline tank holds 27 gallons.

The rapid development of the automobile is clearly illustrated by this "old timer." The "electric" system is a 12-volt system, each lamp having a separate circuit. The car is controlled and operated by a belt off the drive shaft.

The dual battery system was installed in 1912, as was the present electric starter. The starter is one of the old-time friction drive type. The bumper body is one of the finest examples of coach building to be found anywhere. While it is somewhat out of date, it is as sound today as when it was first delivered to the royal family. The body back of driver's seat is entirely of wood, and is finished in the royal colors—maroon with a striking of vermilion and black. The interior is lined with goat skin, a unique feature to those familiar with modern cars. A separate pocket in the lining is provided for each passenger. The interior fittings are complete—clear and cigarette trays, vanity cases, etc.

For the convenience of those in the tonneau, two speedometers are installed in the front of the rear compartment. One of these registers the trip in both miles and furlongs. The other registers the constant speed per hour, and the maximum speed per hour during the trip. One speedometer in front gives the driver the same information.

The car is extra strong and is equipped with a rolling—thus providing a cushioned luggage carrier. The car is of leather, as are the interior board shields. The car is equipped with wire wheels. The lining of the tool boxes with leather, to prevent rusting, is another example of the care exercised in building the car.

On January 1, 1927, this grand old car passed its 191,000th mile, and the engine is today as quiet, flexible and trouble-free as ever, a shining example of the efficiency of the Knight sleeve-valve engine.

The Knight company brought the old car from England in October, 1924, and since that time it has traveled over the entire United States, being displayed in more than 250 cities. The mileage is far past the 200,000 mark at this time. James Teale, representative of Willys Overland, Inc., is in charge of the tour, with Stewart Lallow, representative of the Willys-Overland Pacific company as a guide.

Coming from Berkeley early yesterday the Knight passed over the city streets and was then put on display at Strom's. It remained there last evening and this morning it will be driven to the agency in Pittsburg for the inspection of residents of eastern Contra Costa county.

ARMED GUARDS PROTECT MARY FROM PLOTTERS

the asserted threat to kidnap the actress. H. L. Brady, who lives at 2657 Palm Grove avenue, visited Hollywood station yesterday and made a statement to the effect that while Miss Pickford was making a motion picture at Twelfth and Los Angeles streets on Monday he overheard three men indicate that they would hold the actress for heavy ransom. The men, he said, were in a large sedan which followed the actress as she drove away in her automobile.

Worth $100,000

"She'll be worth $100,000 to us," Brady declared one of the men reported to his companions.

Brady said he failed to obtain the license number of the car.

Acting on Brady's information, Hollywood and Beverly Hills police cooperated in furnishing protection for the actress.

Threatened Before

Spiller threats made against Miss Pickford two years ago led to the conviction of C. A. Stevens and Claude A. Holcomb on conspiracy to kidnap charges. The men are now serving sentences of 10 to 50 years in San Quentin.

Rotary Chief Tells Why Yanks Prefer Paris To London

(By Universal Service)

LONDON, June 17.—"Why do you prefer Paris to London?"

That was the puzzling question put by Walter D. Cline, of Texas, by London newspaper reporters. Cline smiled and there was a twinkle in his eye, as he replied:

"They do prefer Paris and no American visiting Europe thinks his journey worth while unless he has seen the 'Gay City'."

Cline, chairman of the Rotary International Committee, was in London on his way to the city for the Rotary convention to be held at Oxford, referring to the reasons for the preference of Americans to Paris, he continued:

"The explanation may be found in the movie representations we see of Paris in the life and gaiety of the French capital, its spacious boulevards and its free architecture."

There will be no international peace gathering at Oxford, Cline remarked, the chief addresses will be delivered in English and French, but some will be in Spanish and Italian.
